DISTINCTIVE BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

I enjoyed your "Distinctive Birth Announcements" very much, but the one from a Women's Lib member reads Mrs. Wilma Flensch, etc. It should read Mr. Wilma Flensch as Women's Lib members do not wish to be known as either Miss or Mrs.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

"Harry Grepser's New Year's Resolutions 1962-1972" was THE classic in your March 1972 issue. My congratulations to Mr. Frank Jacobs whose talent demonstrated marvelous insight into human behaviour. Harry Grepser was both comic and pitiful. But then there are many insensitive people (Harry's boss and his two friends) who make the Harry Grepser's of the world.

CLICHÉ MOVIE PROPS

How ironic that you are able to poke fun at "Cliché Movie Props," that held important roles in the plots of the classic films, when your own magazine uses a much more prevalent cliché itself...Alfred E. Neuman.

JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME

When I first saw your "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again" back cover, I was thunderstruck. Never, on any magazine, humorous or serious, has such a simple illustration carried so much meaning. The look on the returning soldier's face is as frightening as the message is overwhelming. Please keep this up. You're doing a life-saving service for those on heroin or "thinking about it."

HORROR COMICS OF THE 1950's

I think your readers would be interested in knowing about Nostalgia Press's latest release: "HORROR COMICS OF THE 1950's." Twenty-three of the greatest stories from E.C.'s Tales From The Crypt and The Vault Of Horror have been reprinted in a mammoth full-color edition which will delight old and new E.C. Fan-Addicts. I'm sure this hard-cover book will bring back fond memories for all, not only because of the complete stories, but also because of original ads, biographies, and editorials which I've included. If any of your readers would like to order a copy of this E.C. bonanza, it's available at $19.95 (plus 75¢ handling) from: Nostalgia Press, Box 293, Franklin Square, New York 11010.

In past issues we've presented songs our readers can sing about the important things in life — things like food and pets and material possessions. But now, as a change of pace, we feel it's time to glorify some of the less important things in life — namely this year's Presidential hopefuls. They may have been unsung before, but they are unsung no longer as we now present . . .

MAD'S SONGBOOK FOR THE '72 CANDIDATES

(Sung To The Tune Of Whatever)

ARTIST: DAVID GANTZ

WRITER: FRANK JACOBS

The Wallace Rouser

(Sung to the tune of
"O! Susanna")

He comes from Alabama
Like he did in '68;
And with good luck this year he might
Just carry his home state;
He'll stir up crowds throughout the land
While making his attacks;
We've got a funny feeling that
He won't appeal to blacks:
O! George Wallace!
Show how you can fight!
If you get in, one thing's for sure—
You'll keep the White House white!

The Nixon Fight Song

(Sung to the tune of
"Over There")

One term more!
One term more!
Hear him plead
That he'll need
One term more!
Though he's had his four years,
He needs four more years,
And this the country can't ignore;
Crime can soar
Even more;
Folks can get
More in debt
Than before;
Such inflation
Can kill the nation,
But he needs more time
So let's give him one term more!

David Gantz

The Agnew Anthem

(Sung to the tune of
"The Notre Dame Fight Song")

Cheer, cheer for Spiro today—
He will unite the whole U.S.A.!
Polacks, Guineas, Japs and Greeks,
Impudent snobs and left-wing freaks;
What though the slums be great or be small,
When you've seen one, then you've seen them all;
Should he lose, then he can star in
"All in the Fam-i-ly!"

The Kennedy Carol

(Sung to the tune of
"Pop Goes the Weasel")

In '69 he led in the polls;
It seemed like he was ready;
In '69 he looked good and then—
Oops! There went Teddy!

Each time he shows the Kennedy style
And people think he's steady—
Each time it looks like he's the one—
Oops! There goes Teddy!

The McGovern Anthem

(Sung to the tune of
"Everybody Loves Somebody Sometime")

Everybody loves a man dynamic—
Everybody wants a man with drive—
Someone who will sock it to the people,
While looking alive;

Everybody loves a man with spirit—
Everybody wants a man with flash
Someone who will barnstorm through the nation
And make a big splash;

When you have a man of fire,
Then you know you've got a potent candidate—
He's the kind that folks admire,
And you know that he can win in every state;

Everybody loves a man dynamic—
Should you find one, tell us when you do;
We're still stuck with George Mc-Govern—
For sev-en-ty two!

The Humphrey Salute

(Sung to the tune of
"Born Free")

Hum-phrey!
Whenever we're near him,
We're certain to hear him;
We really don't have a choice;

Hum-phrey!
His words keep outpouring;
It's clear he's adoring
The endless sound of his voice;

Hum-phrey!
His tongue won't stop mov-ing;
Even his friends agree
He's a walking LP;

Hum-phrey!
We'll bid him farewell now;
We've Howard Cosell now;
Who needs Hum . . . phrey?

The Rockefeller Rouser

(Sung to the tune of
"From the Halls of Montezuma")

From the vaults of Chase Manhattan Bank
To his zillion shares of stocks—
We will work for Rockefeller, hoys,
'Cause he's richer than Fort Knox;
True, he'll make a lousy can-di-date,
Still we never should forget
He's the only one who's got the cash
To pay off the U.S. debt!

The Lindsay Two-Party Chorus

(Sung to the tune of "Hello, Dolly!")

Democrats sing the dark type:

*** *
Republicans
sing the light type:

Hello, Lindsay!

Goodbye, Lindsay!

Well, hello, Lindsay!

So, goodbye, Lindsay!

It's so nice that you've become a Democrat!

'Cause you've turned around and ditched the G.O.P.!

You look so cute, Lindsay—

From what we think, Lindsay,

You're a beaut, Lindsay—

You're a fink, Lindsay—

Much too pretty for your city, you're a real cool cat;

All your wheelin' double-dealin' is a shame to see;

Our voters all love ya,

Your move was so tricky,

Think the world of ya,

You outdo Dickie—

Since you made your switch and landed over here—

And we hope one thing is plainly understood—

Oh! You've made our day, Lindsay!

Oh! We're all agreed, Lindsay!

Hope that you'll stay, Lindsay!

You we don't need, Lindsay!

Lindsay, till you switch again next year!

Lindsay, you can stay away for good!

The Muskie Hymn

(Sung to the tune of "Maria")

Ed Muskie!

A man of the people—Ed Muskie!
I think we'll never find
A man who speaks his mind
Like that;

Ed Muskie!

He speaks with conviction—Ed Muskie!
Although, to be quite fair,
It all depends on where He's at;

Ed Muskie!

In the North he's the liberal's hero—
In the South he comes off more like Spiro;

Ed Muskie!

Please tell me which one is Ed Muskie!

The Alfred E. Neuman Athem

(Sung to the tune of
"Try to Remember")

Try to remember this coming November

To Vote for Neuman, Vote for Neuman!

Change your direction; don't look for perfection

And Vote for Neuman, Vote for Neuman!

Alfred E. Neuman, though slightly sub-human,
Will win just like Truman did from Missouri;

Back him today so the country can say:

"What me worry, worry, worry, worry, worry, worry,

Muskie crusaders and Nixon paraders

Will Vote for Neuman, Vote for Neuman!

Kennedy voters and Lindsay promoters

Will Vote for Neuman, Vote for Neuman!

Alfred E. Neuman, with brain of albumen,

Will win just like Truman did from Missouri;

Back him and then we can say once again:

"What me worry, worry, worry, worry, worry, worry,

HYPOCRATIC OAFS DEPT.

There's a popular weekly series on television about a Medical Center where patients are treated with respect, the nurses are super-courteous, the operations are 99.9% successful, and no one is ever presented with a bill. Now, we've been to plenty of Medical Centers, but from what we've seen of this place, it's more like a...

MIRACLE CENTER

ARTIST: ANGELO TORRES

WRITER: DICK DE BARTOLO

All your tests are back, and I have wonderful news for you, Mrs. Fileman!

MISS Fileman!

I have terrible news for you, Miss Fileman! You're pregnant!

Pregnant?!? Are you positive?

As positive as modern medicine can be! You're either pregnant, or you swallowed a balloon!

When will you know for certain, Dr. Gammon?

After it's born! If we slap it and it cries, it's a baby! If we slap it and it bursts, it's a balloon...

Dr. Gammon! Mr. Glutzer needs a —

Not now, Nurse! I'm busy!

I can't have a baby! I'm all alone in the world! No one cares if I live or die!

But, I care!

I don't believe it! To you, I'm just another screwed up kid!

That's not true! To me, you're a VERY SPECIAL screwed up kid!

Dr. Gammon! Mr. Glutzer is in—

I said not now, NURSE! LATER!

You see, Miss Fileman, I learned something: that drugs and healing tools are fine, but nothing can take the place of a warm, close and personal Doctor-Patient relationship!

And now, if you'll move over please?

More tests, Doctor?

No, I thought I'd get into bed with you!

Doctor Gammon, you won't tell my parents, will you?

About my getting into bed with you?

No, about the baby!

Of course not! But I think I ought to tell the child's—er—Father! What's his phone number?

Pick out any one in the Directory!

Oh? I take it you were very promiscuous!

Me?!? I've never been promiscuous! I was always too busy fooling around with guys!!

Doctor Gammon! Mr. Glutzer is—

Nurse Chamberpot! I can only be warm and sympathetic to one patient at a time! Now, in the past few minutes, I've made Miss Fileman feel wanted and given her the will to live!

And in that same time, you've made Mr. Glutzer feel UNwanted, and he just went into a cardiac arrest!

Without my permission?! But I specifically told him not to do that!!

Will you excuse me for a minute, Miss Fileman? I have a thing or two I want to tell Mr. Glutzer!

No need to rush, "Mr. Sympathetic"! I just came by to tell you that Mr. Glutzer's bed is available! So are the beds of patients Bacon, Cohen, Olson and Thompson! You may have saved one, Doc, but you blew five! Sometimes I wish you'd administer medicine instead of long lectures!

There! You've seen me make a cut! Now you do the same thing!

I—I can't, Doctor! (Choke!)

Do as I say! You must! Don't shy away from it!

I can't do it! I can't! There's too much blood!

I know! I was the same way when I started here! But you'll get used to it!

The Miracle Center cafeteria always serves their steaks much too rare . . . with the blood dripping out! I think the Chef is an operating room drop-out!

C'mon! Finish up! We've got an operation to witness!

It's 100 over 60, Doctor!

Is that the blood pressure?

No, that's the football score! The patient asked to be kept informed!

Ahhh . . . there's our trouble!

It looks like an aortic stenosis!

Or a yellow-bellied sapsucker!

Please, nurse—my forehead!

But there's nothing to wipe, Doctor! You're not sweating!

That's what I mean! Put some sweat ON it! I want those students up there watching to know they should always sweat while performing an operation!

Dr. Lockjaw! Look at his hands shake! I tell you, Dr. Gallstone should not be allowed to perform any operations!

Hmmm! I do detect a very slight tremor!

I'm going down there!

To take over the operation?

Yes! Or at least to catch parts!

Thank you for saving my life, Doctor Gallstone!

Don't thank me! Thank Doctor Gammon! He was the one who helped most in the operation! It was he who showed me that sometimes an old and ailing doctor has to step aside to make way for the new, bright, young ones!

Hey, I didn't do all that, Doctor Gallstone! All I said was, you're a nervous, doddering, butcher-happy, shell-shocked old quack who should be practicing with witch doctors, or sorcerers back in the dark ages!

Now, now! Don't try to flatter me, Son! I've learned my lesson, and I'm leaving the Medical Profession!

Doctor, you can't leave the field TOTALLY! I've already taken the liberty of getting you another job! Starting Monday, you'll be working for the Bayer Company ... stuffing those little wads of cotton into the tops of bottles of Aspirin!

Thank you! You've made me feel wanted!

And, Doctor, you've made ME feel wanted, too, by putting Mr. Belfrey into the bed next to mine!

Well, we here at Miracie Center never take on a patient unless he or she has some kind of story that fits in with the story of our other guest-star-patient so that we can always have this warm and wonderful scene at the end where the two hospitalized human beings find strength in each other ... and don't have to depend on us Doctors any more!

Phew!! If you think that's easy to say in one breath, try it!

In any case, charming, lonely Mr. Belfrey has proposed marriage ... but I don't think he knows I'm an unwed Mother!

What should I do, Doctor!
Tell him, by all means ...

It really doesn't matter, Miss Fileman! After Doctor Gallstone and Doctor Gammon had their big argument over me in the operating room ...

... WHO'S PERFECT??

A MAD LOOK AT... TV SPORTS INTERVIEWS—

April 29, 1946 THE FIRST "POST-GAME-STUDIO" INTERVIEW

We're here with St. Louis Browns' Pitcher, Walt Freemish, who just lost another big one to the Philadelphia A's, 16 to 2! I guess you just didn't have your best stuff out there today, eh, Walt?

I thought I had good stuff, Fred! I was throwing a lot less wild pitches in the late innings! But we were 14 runs behind by then!

Yes! That was a tough break for you!

Well, I've been a hard luck pitcher all year, Fred! And it's too bad they're farming me out to Des Moines just when I'm throwing good stuff again!

True! But the fans and our sponsors still love you, fellow! So here's a gift certificate good for $10 on the purchase of any new 1946 Kaiser-Frazer!

Thanks, but I like the new Hudson a lot better!

No, you don't! Well, that's our post-game show for today, and I hope that both you folks with TV sets were watching!

June 23, 1973 THE FIRST "BETWEEN-PITCHES-ON-THE-FIELD" INTERVIEW

It's ball three to Clench! Now, let's go down to Tony Kueball at home plate to find out what Johnny plans to do in this situation...

Johnny, another wide one would force in a run! So will you be taking this next pitch?

No! The coach just wiped his nose on his sleeve, and that's the signal for me to swing away! I guess he's guessing they'll have to give me a good one to hit now!

Now let's hear from Cub Hurler, Jerkuson Fengins, who has just gotten himself into this mess! I'm sure he's giving a lot of thought to this next pitch, too...

Jerky, you're just about to force in a run here! I guess you'll have to throw one down the middle and hope for the best, right?

No! I'm guessing that's what Clench is guessing I'll do! And I'm guessing he won't be able to check his swing if I pitch him outside!

Well, that sounds like a pretty good guess! Now, let's see what Clench has to say about it!

PAST, PRESENT & FUTURE

October 7, 1969 THE FIRST "DURING-THE-GAME-SIDELINES" INTERVIEW

Well, Bobby Joe, your offensive unit's given up the ball again! Apparently, that new strategy you were telling us about at half-time didn't work!

Naw . . . an' I can't figure it! We thought switching to a ground game would catch 'em off guard, but they were ready for us!

So what's the plan when you go on offensive the next time?

I guess we'll have to take to the air again! They won't expect us to pass from deep in our own territory, so we'll have the element of surprise going for us!

Good thinking, Bobby Joe! A long aerial should catch them flat-footed! And we'll be chatting with you later on . . . after you've given it a try!

ARTIST: JACK DAVIS

WRITER: TOM KOCH

Johnny, you were told to swing at anything, here! Suppose Fengins guesses you're expecting a fast ball over the plate and throws one outside? Could you check your swing?

I doubt it! But I've already guessed that he's guessed that I'm expecting a fast ball! So now I'm guessing he'll be throwing one outside, which means I'll be ready for it!

How about that, fans? I wonder if Fengins has guessed that Clench may have already guessed that Fengins has guessed that—

LOOK OUT, YOU IDIOT!!

AWWWWWWWK!! An' now (MUMBLE, MUMBLE) backter (MUMBLE) inna booth . . .

We're only seconds away from another "Run for the Roses"! And Wispie—I imagine even a veteran jockey like you feels pretty excited at this moment!

I sure do, Sid, especially being up on a spirited favorite like Low Lead Ethel, here! This could be my greatest Derby ever!

Normally, you hold back and then make your move in the home-stretch! Is that your race plan today?

No! I think Low Lead Ethel can set a record today, so I'm going to let her move out in front and stay there!

Great! Incidentally, I only have ten furlongs of mike cord, so stick close to the rail, huh?

Will do, Sid! Will do!

I notice we've dropped about 20 lengths behind here! Would you tell our viewing audience why you changed your mind about grabbing an early lead?

Actually, it's the horse that seems to have changed its mind! Nothing personal, but how much do you weigh?

About 190 pounds! Why...?

That might be our problem! I don't think any horse carrying 316 pounds has ever won a Kentucky Derby!

Well, however it comes out, we're making TV history by giving our fans at home the first on-the-horse coverage of a Kentucky Derby!

And I think I'm also making history by riding the first horse that ever took all afternoon to run a mile-and-a-quarter!

I wonder what all those people in the Grandstands are cheering about?

Probably just the other horses coming down the stretch to the finish line!

I'll bet our viewers would have liked to have seen that! Too bad we assigned all the camera crews to stay here with us!

It's all YOUR fault that we couldn't televise the finish! You promised me we'd be there in time!

Don't yell at me, Buster! You just tripped my horse with your dumb mike cord!

Aaaaah! He was ready to fall down anyway!

Was not!

Was so!

And now, from our newsroom in New York, here's a bulletin on the outcome of today's Kentucky Derby...

So it's now third and six... and to find out what's coming up next, let's go down to Ed Greeber in the Ram's huddle!

Run 32J off R19! Okay, let's go!

Gee, I'm kinda pressed for time, Ed, but if you want to come along, we can talk about it on the line!

Before you go, could you explain that call to our viewers, Gabe?

This is what we call an "Option Play," Ed! I can either hand off to the fullback, or fake a handoff and throw a pass...

I suppose it all depends on how you read the enemy's defense, huh?

That's right! And the way I read it, they're gonna be swarming in here like wild animals any second now!

See that, Ed? I was right! They're putting on what's known as a "Blitz"!

Quick! What happens now? You gotta tell me...!

I'll just have to fade a little further back than I'd planned! You can come along if you like!

Oh, I like! Let's fade way back!

Ed, you might mention to your viewers that they can see the advantage of the Option Play here! I sent two receivers downfield, so I can pass to either one that's open now!

I think they've both been flattened already, Gabe!

Yeah! I just noticed that! Well, that's the way the ball bounces!

What are we gonna do NOW?!

Nothing! I figure it's much better to lose some yardage than risk an interception!

But those guys are gonna jump all over us, Gabe!

True! But I'm in excellent physical shape and wearing lots of padding, so it's no big deal!

And there was another consideration. We're still within Field Goal range, so keeping possession of the ball was vital! Understand? Ed...? Ed...??

Well, I guess that's all from down here! Now back to Nipsy Smellson in the booth!

We're here with Sweden's Gunder Schlugg as he tries for 18 feet in the Pole Vault! How's it going so far, Gunder?

So far I dank dis yump go pretty good!

Well, could you give the fans a more specific prediction on how the attempt will come out?

Ja! I dank it comes out dat I land in da sawdust pit—and you land on da concrete next to it!

We may return to the Pole Vault later! But now, the 1500 Meter has started, and I'm right here with the favorite—America's Jim Frayun! Isn't it unusual for you to be this far behind, Jim?

And there's your answer, fans! Apparently, it's not unusual for him to be behind because he's obviously not America's Jim Frayun! And now... over to Wafer Swenson at the Long Jump...

Potrziebie! Nov schmoz ka pop!!

Wafer Swenson here with America's Long Jump champion, Bruce Panziel! Bruce, what are the main factors going for and against you in this event?

Well, going for me is the fact that I can jump 31 feet! But going against me is the fact that you can't, and that mike in my face just stopped me dead!

Sorry about that! Now to Weissy Johnmueller at the Diving Finals!

This is Weissy Johnmueller, diving with Charlie Tuner of the U.S.A.! Charlie, what are your plans for this event?

Well, I was planning to do a two-and-a-half somersault on the way down! But now, I'm also planning something else!

I'm planning to get out of that pool as quick as I can after we hit—because there's no telling what's gonna happen when all that live electronic equipment you're wearing hits the water with us!

Oh, my God, you're right!

CUT! CUT OFF MY POWER!! Now back to A.B.C. Sports in New York!

MODERN

TECHNOLOGY

ARTIST & WRITER: DAVE BERG

What's this? It looks like you're going into competition with all the Electrical Appliance stores in town!

No, I'm just keeping them in business! Isn't it wonderful! All these inventions make my housework so quick and easy!

And what's THIS?! Whatever it is, it doesn't look safe!

I know! It seems that with all the marvelous, work-saving electrical appliances they've invented...

... they still haven't gotten around to inventing an adequate OUTLET to plug them all into!

Did you ever look inside a television set? It's really a fantastic, ingenious mechanism!

There are miles and miles of wires and printed circuits, solid state transistors and tubes, condensers and transformers! Such unbelievable advanced technology!

Then there are controls for selecting channels and for adjusting volume, contrast, brightness, color tint, tone, vertical and horizontal...

It's amazing! All that brilliant engineering—

—just to watch that stupid "Brady Bunch"!

Mommy! Mommy! Mommy!

Darling! Did you have a good time at Grandma's?

Oh, boy, did I!!! Grandma bought me a toothbrush! It's a brand new kind of invention!

Oh, really? What's it like?

You don't have to plug it in or use batteries!

My goodness! Technology is certainly making rapid advances! What powers it?

You just have to use your hand!

Sylvia! My gosh, what happened to you!? You got so thin!

Yes! I went to one of those Automated Weight-Removal Solariums!

I just had to lie there, and automatic machines did all the work! They massaged me, stretched me and rolled me until I automatically lost all that extra fat!

Isn't it just wonderful... how automatic machines can even make you thin today?!

What's so wonderful? An automatic machine made me fat in the first place!

What automatic machine was that?

My mouth!

My darling Secretary, Miss McGilla... if it's not too much trouble, would you please take a letter...

Oh, Mr. Kaputnik! It would be my pleasure!

To H.B. Schmotah and Company,
Dear Sir:
In reply to your letter of May 5, concerning order number 7214...

By the way, Miss McGilla... your new hairstyle is very becoming!

How sweet of you to notice, Mr. Kaputnik!

We acknowledge the shortage, and will correct it immediately!

Very truly yours... etc., etc.!

Miss McGilla, it is a joy to dictate a letter to you! You smile up the whole office!

And you, Mr. Kaputnik, are one of the warmest, kindest, most loving...

This Long Distance direct dialing system is for the BIRDS! One little mistake, and you can get OSHKOSH!

I have to call my Aunt in Hoboken, so everybody keep quiet 'cause I gotta do it very carefully! There are ten digits to dial, and I want to get them correct!

Let's see... Two—oh—one... four—three—three... oh—eight—nine—seven...

Hello... Oshkosh Bird Seed Company...

Do you realize that technology is taking over?! We're becoming the slaves, and the machines are becoming the masters! Well, I for one refuse to be enslaved! I'm going to fight back!!

I'M GOING TO WRITE A BLISTERING EDITORIAL... WARNING THE WORLD ABOUT OUR DEPENDENCY ON TECHNOLOGY!!

Well? Did you write it?

Uh... no! I... changed my mind!

Why? What happened?

Well, first the electric typewriter wouldn't type! Then the electric pencil sharpener wouldn't sharpen! And to top it off, the bulb in my writing lamp blew out!

Oh, my gosh! The phone is dead!!

Do you realize what this means?! Complete and total isolation!!

Honey, don't lose your cool! We'll be okay!

BUT WE'RE CUT OFF FROM THE WHOLE WORLD!!

BACK IN THE OPERATING ROOM WITH DON MARTIN DURING A HEART TRANSPLANT

Ahhh... just breathe in that fresh clean air! I tell you, moving out here is the smartest thing we ever did! This is living! No smog... no pollution... no crowds...

HE'S ALMOST SURE TO SAY

Don't start bugging me about leaky faucets and crab grass! Fix me a drink! What a day I've had! That lousy train was an hour late! And I couldn't get a seat! We must've been out of our ever-lovin' minds to leave the city for this!

It's official! CBS has just declared Governor Rockefeller the winner!

I'm glad he won again! We need a man with Governor Rockefeller's experience!

... and so, in order to balance the State's budget and pay for all the services required, I'm going to have to raise taxes...

Raise taxes?! What a miserable Governor! I don't see how he keeps getting re-elected!

I've got to tell the people the truth! The South Vietnamese just can't cut the mustard! We're going to have to stay there in Indochina and help them!

But according to the latest poll, 79% of the people want out of Vietnam now!

My fellow Americans... I am pleased to announce that, due to the success of our gallant Vietnamese allies, we can now safely step up our troop withdrawals...

Look at that idiot, cutting in and out! Y'know what's wrong with this country! Nobody has any respect for the law!

You were doing 70, Mac! Let's see your license!

Sure, Officer! Here! Uh... why don't you buy yourself a cigar or something!

Hello, there! I'm Walter Crankcase, speaking to you from Detroit, Michigan, where I'm on Special Assignment for MAD Magazine! We're here for another of those stupid fictitious interviews with people who make America great! And this time, our guest is Mr. Edsel Lemmon, the famous industrial tycoon who was recently named as . . .

MAD'S AUTO MANUFACTURER OF THE YEAR

ARTIST: GEORGE WOODBRIDGE

WRITERS: TOM KOCH WITH EARLE DOUD

Say, this is an impressive monument you have outside your factory, Mr. Lemmon!

Yes, we're very proud of our "Honor Roll of the Dead"!

Incredible! All those men were killed in the service of their country?

Uh—not exactly! All those men were killed trying to drive our cars off the Assembly Lines!

Hmmm! Well, seeing all those new cars rolling out of the plant, I'd assume that business was very good these days, Mr. Lemmon!

No, business is very rotten these days! Those aren't new cars rolling out of the plant! They're last year's cars rolling back INTO the plant to have their mechanical defects fixed!

Oh, really? What's wrong with them?

Only a minor power problem! When you hit the power brakes at 80 miles an hour, the power steering cuts out, and the power windows roll down!

Sorry about this, but some idiot put the same kind of handles and latches on all of the factory doors that we use on our cars!

Well, I guess every big company has a few incompetent employees!

Yeah, but I thought we'd promoted all of ours to the Board of Directors!

LEMMON MOTORS
CORP.
PLANT
A

Some layout, huh? We've got 38,000 men working on the Assembly Line, 15,000 engineers designing expensive new accessories, and one kid who comes in after school two days a week to work on improving our "Anti-Pollution Device"!

This is the "Bumper Assembly Section"! As you can see, those men are about to attach a front bumper to that car on the Line!

I had no idea a bumper was so heavy that it takes six men to carry one!

That's not because the bumper is so heavy! Actually, it only weighs three pounds! Those six men are carrying it as a safety precaution! Because it's so brittle, if they ever drop it, it will shatter into a million pieces!

This is our "Accessory Development Department" where we design all the innovations like this year's "Spiro Agnew Dashboard Clock," and "Power Seat Covers" and "Electric Ashtrays"!

Now, this one either turns on the windshield wipers automatically when rain is predicted, or else it whistles when you unlock the trunk—I forget! But whichever, it's a $300 optional extra!

Our dealers! How do you expect 'em to get rich if they can't sell at least $3000 worth of accessories to go with every $2000 car?!

Is that man trying to make some new accessory from transistorized components?

No, he's double-checking the fine print in our New Car Warranty to make sure that everything that could go wrong is always the Customer's fault!

But who needs these accessories?

Do you mean that even if a part is defective, the Customer has to pay for a new one?

Oh, the part is a minor expense! It's the labor that adds up! Do you know that on the '72 Lemmon, you have to take the engine out just to replace a headlight bulb?

And you actually design your new cars that way on purpose?!

We're just doing our patriotic duty . . . creating new jobs for Auto Mechanics!

Hop in! I'll take you over to the Proving Grounds where we're testing the prototypes of our '73 models!

Er . . . I see you drive an Import yourself instead of one of your own luxury cars! How come . . . ?

Boy, that's a dumb question to ask a busy Executive! Do you know how long it takes the Auto Club to send a tow truck way out here?

Maybe we can stop and watch this "Demolition Derby" later, Mr. Lemmon, but first I think our readers would like to see your Proving Grounds!

But this IS our Proving Grounds, Walter . . . and those are our Test Drivers—trying out next year's models!

If it's a Proving Ground, just what are you proving?

We're proving why we always have so many job vacancies for Test Drivers!

For example, every model prototype must successfully cover this very dangerous Obstacle Course! The test driver starts the car at the top of that hill there, and rolls it nearly 500 feet to the bottom!

But . . . I don't see any obstacles!

Are you kidding?! That's ENOUGH of an obstacle! If our prototype can go 500 feet without falling apart or blowing up, we put it into production!

Mr. Lemmon, I just test-crashed our new luxury sedan model at two miles an hour, and the front bumper and radiator grill were both demolished!

Fantastic! I must tell the Parts Department to start making lots of replacement bumpers and grilles!

Also, the mechanic riding with me was killed!

Really? I must tell the Accounting Department to make sure he doesn't get paid for a full day!

Doesn't your company have an Insurance Fund to cover when a man gets killed on the job?

We did . . . ! But then we spent all the money on a more WORTHY CAUSE!

Oh? What was that?

Hiring 750 Private Detectives to dig up something we could use to blackmail Ralph Nader!

Just to be sure your readers get a good impression of our company, I'd like to show you our Safety Research Department!

Well, you've certainly got it in a beautiful building!

Oh, this isn't it! This is our Company Executive Indoor Golf Course! Safety Research is in the building next door!

Apparently, you don't have a very large staff doing Safety Research!

No! It would be bad business if we found too many ways of preventing auto accidents!

How do you figure that?

Use your head, Walt! We also manufacture ambulances, hearses and funeral cars!

Wait, this is our Department Foreman . . .

He got hurt making a Safety discovery that could prevent thousands of other motorists from being seriously injured!

That it's unsafe to punch a cop in the mouth when he stops you for Drunken Driving!

What happened to him?

Really? What did he discover?

Walter, this is George! He's working on new Safety Belts!

That's right! As you know, the average car has two safety belts in front! Well, we've added five more belts! One runs from the dashboard to the rear window! One runs from the engine to the trunk! One runs from the roof to the floorboard! One runs . . .

Uh—those five extra belts should really make passengers safe!

Who cares about passengers! We're using 'em to hold the car together!

Here's a safety device we perfected that's designed exclusively for the passengers! It's a gigantic plastic balloon! In case of a collision, it inflates immediately on impact, and fills the entire inside of the car!

But won't passengers in the car suffocate?!

Of course! But it's better than being mutilated!

Heh-heh! That's a little joke of mine! Actually, it works very well! It's fully tested and ready for production! We plan to introduce it on our 1975 models!

But if it's perfected NOW, why wait until 1975?

Because Congress just gave us until 1975 to perfect it!

Besides, we figure we'll get more trade-in business in '75 if we tell people that all the cars we sold 'em in '72, '73 and '74 were dangerous!

What about the pollution problem, Mr. Lemmon? What are you doing about exhaust fumes that foul our air?

I'm happy to report that next year, for the first time, we are doing something about the problem! We're following the lead of cigarette manufacturers!

Great! You're going to put a filter on the end of the exhaust pipe to trap the dangerous gases?

No, we're going to put a sticker on the side of every car which reads: BREATHING IN AUTO EXHAUST FUMES MAY BE HAZARDOUS TO YOUR HEALTH!

Let's talk about "Planned Obsolescence"! Isn't it true that you keep re-designing your cars just to make the older models seem more obsolete?

That's a lie and I can prove it!
O.K.! How?

Just look at our wheel suspension system! We haven't changed that design in 17 years! Our 1972 Lemmons still tip over on curves exactly like our 1956 models did!

Then, basically, you seem to go along with Henry Ford's ideas on automobile production?

Who's this Henry Ford guy?

He discovered that by keeping the same good design year after year, he could afford to sell his cars for $300 each!

No wonder I never heard of him! I don't associate with Commie radicals! C'mon—I'll show you my private office!

You have a very impressive office, Mr. Lemmon! And your secretary is lovely!

She IS a sexy dish, ain't she? I'm—er—having an affair with her!

Really, Mr. Lemmon! I thought you were a married man!

C'mon! Be reasonable, Walt! I'm stuck with a "1935 Wife"! You remember those old-timers—boxy shape, big rumble seat, hard to get started on a cold night...

I've been looking at these ads for your cars, and I hate to say it, but they're misleading and deceptive!

Whaddya talking, deceptive?

Well, they say your cars are durable and dependable! You just showed me your cars, and they're not durable and dependable! And they certainly won't go 130 miles an hour!

I know! But don't get excited! There's no harm done!

Look out there! Even if we bothered to make good, fast, dependable cars, who'd ever know it when there's no room for them to move anyway!

Hmmm! I see What you mean!

This is Walter Crankcase saying "Good-bye" ... and returning you to MAD Magazine!

If you expect to make out with the chicks, forget all the jazz you've read about

"R" MOVIES BETTER THAN EVER? DEPT.

Remember when they used to make movies about nice things and nice people? Come to think of it, neither can we! Nowadays, there are no more nice things to make movies about! What happens today is, a screen writer and a director get together for a two-man group therapy session, air their sicknesses and hang-ups, and then, instead of dropping it right there, they sell it all to us on film! At three bucks a throw! Like, for example, take our version of this current sickie...

believe that 12 years
have gone by!

Yeah, time really flies when you're having fun!

Baby, I really go for you! How about moving into my apartment?

Just like that? You must have some opinion of me—and women in general! Don't you believe in decency, in establishing a relationship first, in mutual respect?
Why, I hardly even know you!

I'm Yawnathan...!

I'm Boobie!

I'll get the check!

I'll get my toothbrush!

Oh, Yawnathan! I love you! I'll do anything you say!

I want to be mothered!
Anything you say!

I didn't know that
THIS was what you had in mind!

No more bottie,
Mama!
Gurgle!

Now cut that out! Look, we're two grown people! I will not allow you to humiliate yourself like this! We must have a mature adult relationship, understand?

Right!
But first do me one small favor!

Okay!
What is it?

Burp
me!

Forget this idiocy! C'mon! Let's have a typical mod movie make-out scene now —with fancy camera work and writhing sheets and heavy breathing and moans and sighs and other exciting noises!

Ooooooh! Ohhhhhh! Uhhhhh!

Aaaargh!

Eccchh!

ULP!!

Aaaargh!

Eccchh!

UL-L-P!

This is how you make out???

Well, I TOLD you to burp
me!

These are the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes! I once spent a Shrove Tuesday with them I'll never forget! I was almost kicked to death!

Well, so much for my pre-adolescent years! Now, when I was thirteen, I met Natalie . . .

WOOPS!!
Wrong picture!

HOLD IT!!

I saw that, Yawnathan! I may have been stupid in the movies, and missed it . . . but I'm not being stupid now! You said you'd show us slides of all the girls you've made out with, and you just showed a picture of Schmoozin'!

Now you're angry at me, because you think I'm a double-crossing friend, right . . . ?

On the contrary! Now I respect you, because I think you're a kind and thoughtful friend . . . relieving the loneliness of my poor wife who I've neglected for the past 20 years!

But, I'm not making out with her NOW! I made out with her back in COLLEGE!!

WHAT?!!
Well, that's different!

Take THAT—you dirty double-crossing friend!!

That's why I've decided I need Professional help! Only someone like you can relieve me! I've got no wife, no girl friends . . . nobody! And I'm willing to pay for your services!

Boy, have you got the wrong apartment, Mr.! I'm not that kind of Professional!

You mean . . . you're not a Psychiatrist?!!

No, I'm a Professional DOG BREEDER!!

The Psychiatrist is on the next floor!

Well, so it won't be a total waste of time, can you sell me a St. Bernard?

BECAUSE OF OVERWHELMING PUBLIC SUPPORT?

HERE WE GO WITH ANOTHER RIDICULOUS MAD FOLD-IN

Every day, another species is placed upon the endangered list, and few people seem to care. However, due to overwhelming public support, one American animal is sure to survive forever in the vast special preserves created especially for him. To find out which lucky beast this is, fold in the page as shown...
